Chapter 1: The Beginning

Left column begins with an opening paragraph. It continues across a second positioned line.

A new paragraph starts after the larger gap. The final left column line ends this section.

Right column follows the complete left column. Its lines remain in their own reading order.

A second paragraph stays on the right. The final right column line completes the page.

Chapter 2: The Middle

Left column begins with an opening paragraph. It continues across a second positioned line.

A new paragraph starts after the larger gap. The final left column line ends this section.

Right column follows the complete left column. Its lines remain in their own reading order.

A second paragraph stays on the right. The final right column line completes the page.

Appendix: Afterword

Left column begins with an opening paragraph. It continues across a second positioned line.

A new paragraph starts after the larger gap. The final left column line ends this section.

Right column follows the complete left column. Its lines remain in their own reading order.

A second paragraph stays on the right. The final right column line completes the page.